Member (MNucl)

Recognition as a Member of the Nuclear Institute provides independent verification of your nuclear professionalism, whatever your specialism, job role and work context.

Why become a Member?

Increase your value to employers with post-nominal letters (MNucl)

Member status of the Nuclear Institute provides recognition for ongoing commitment to professionalism within the nuclear industry. MNucl is widely recognised across the nuclear sector, and it's highly sought after by employers.

Gain professional registration

An important milestone for any engineer, scientist or environmentalist, professional registration establishes proven knowledge, understanding and competence. We are licensed to register professionals by Engineering Council, the Science Council and the Society for the Environment.

Support the industry and give back

Write for the journal, sit on or lead a committee, become a mentor, or support outreach activities – these are just some of the volunteer experiences you can have with the Nuclear Institute. Not only will you learn more about an area of the industry, but it looks great on the CV, too.

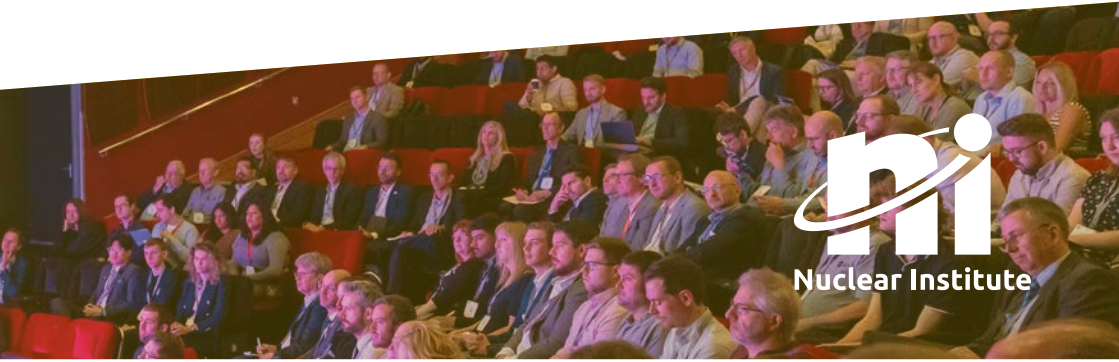

Keep up with an evolving industry

You're always learning in a career in nuclear as the industry continues to evolve and grow, that's what makes it such an interesting industry to work in. Develop your skills and knowledge base through our industry-specific regional and national events, and the member-exclusive Nuclear Future journal.

Mentoring and networking opportunities

Build your contacts and relationships beyond your organisation through our national network of nuclear professionals. Benefit from mentoring and networking with a wide range of people, from new entrants to senior leaders.

Key benefits:

- Acknowledgement of professionalism with entitlement to use industry-recognised post-nominals (MNucl)
- Gain professional registration with the Engineering Council, Science Council or Society for the Environment
- Receive our member-exclusive Nuclear Future journal 6 times a year
